Online Group on Salesian Spirituality

When Don Bosco founded the Salesian Family to support his work among the young, he saw this has having 3 main dimensions: Salesian Priests and Brothers; Salesian Religious Sisters; and a movement of Catholic men and women which he called 'Cooperators'. These groups of Cooperators were always an essential dimension and reflected Don Bosco's determination to celebrate the commitment to daily living, in all its forms, as the way that God shares his love with us and we can share God's love with others. The Cooperators take a promise to live the Salesian vision in their everyday lives and to make reaching out to the young a central feature of their daily prayer and action.

~Would you like to learn more about the Salesian Spiritual vision?

~Would you be interested in exploring the possibility of becoming a Catholic Salesian Cooperator?

Fr Kevin O'Donnell is leading an online group which is starting in mid-October which will meet every two weeks through to February to explore Salesian Spirituality. He hopes that, through reflection on the gifts that this vision may offer, we can all grow in our relationship with God and those we share our life with. If you are interested, please contact Fr Kevin

Kevin.ODonnell@salesians.org.uk He will then send you the online link to join the group
